

DEMAND REVISION
OF RAIL ACT AS
SMITH IS CHOSEN

Progressive Group Joins Democrats In Selecting Chairman.

COALITION MEANS RAILROAD FIGHT

Campaign Opened To Revise
Or Repeal The Esch-Cummings Act.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Announcement of an energetic campaign to revise and repeal some sections of the transportation act came swiftly on the heels today of the election of a democratic Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, to the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee in a Republican-controlled congress.

Smith's election by a coalition of Democrats and Republican insurgents apparently has made certain a railroad fight of far-reaching proportions in the turbulent 68th congress. The Democrats are opposed to the Esch-Cummings bill as a matter of party policy, and the La Follette insurgents are rabid against it—thus placing the law's enemies in the majority in both houses.

Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, who is acting more and more as the spokesman for the insurgent group, gave an outline of what the insurgents hope to accomplish
through coalition with the Democrats.

Brookhart's Statement

"We have made a good start,"
said Brookhart. "More will follow
to startle the old guard leadership.
There will be fewer party ties in this senate from now on than ever before in history. We voted for Smith for the same reason we voted for La Follette and Coughlin, namely, to rewrite it not repeal the Esch-Cummings act."

"It was not a partisan question
to us but one of railroad policy.
Senator Smith stands with us on that policy. We tried for five weeks to reach a compromise with the Old Guard leadership but they refused to discuss the question with us. When they persisted in refusing to call a party conference we gave our support to a progressive Democrat to end the deadlock and start action upon our railroad program. We look upon the result as a victory for progressives."

"The railroad policy, for which we stand and for which Senator Smith has endorsed, is based on the repeal of the vital clauses of the Esch-Cummings act," said Brookhart. "We will seek also to squeeze the $7,000,000
of water out of railroad valuations, abolish the railroad labor board in favor of a conciliation board and force a reduction in railroad rates."

COLD SWEEPING
FROM NORTHWEST

Wave Coming As a Surprise Attack; Zero Weather Is Predicted.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—A new cold wave sweeping down from the northwest was due to reach the Great Lakes
today in its march east and south.
Snow was scheduled to fall in the footsteps of the drop.

The thermometer will not approach the mark attained in the zero weather when 40 below was reached in some states, and the coldest weather in 12 years experienced in Chicago, but probably will reach zero here
Friday morning.

The wave comes as a surprise attack contrasting with the scheduled march a week ago. The present weather originated along the rivers in western Canada, where there are no observation stations to give warning.

DIVORCE PETITION
CHARGES CRUELTY

Through her attorneys, Metzger & McCarthy, Mrs. Anna Colley has entered an action for divorce and alimony against her husband, James Colley of Salem.

The petition recites that the couple were married in Lisbon, Nov. 25, 1922, and that on Dec. 31, last, she had to seek the protection of neighbors, fearing her husband. She charges her husband with abusing and mistreating her.

Other neglect is also set forth in the petition which claims she was not given funds in sufficient amount to be clothed and keep her home.

Funds of the defendant in the hands of two Salem banks have been restrained from being distributed until final order of court.

Leader Of German
Separatists Killed

London, Jan. 10.—Heinz Orbis, leader of the German separatists in the Rhineland, and five other prominent Rhinelanders, have been assasinated, said a Central News dispatch from Berlin today. The dispatch added that the Rhineland situation was growing very serious.

295 BORN, 202 DIED
IN SALEM LAST YEAR

Twelve Violent Deaths Listed, 29 Were Under One Year
Of Age And Six Over 90; Pneumonia Caused Most.

Vital statistics compiled by Health Commissioner T. T. Church and presented in his annual report to the board of health Wednesday night reveal that there were 295 births and only 202 deaths in Salem during 1923.

And since 53 of the deaths were non-residents, the figures show that Salem gained 145 in population by the prevalence of births over deaths.

Twelve of the deaths were from violence, seven being listed as accidental, two from burns and one each from suicide, gunshot wounds and monoxide poisoning. One death from starvation is listed.

Among other causes of deaths are the following: Pneumonia 19, bronchial pneumonia 10, apoplexy 9, cerebral hemorrhages 8, arteriosclerosis 5, nephritis 8, myocarditis 14, pulmonary tuberculosis 5, peritonitis 14, diphtheria 1, influenza 2, septicemia 5.

All but six of the deaths were white, 99 male and 97 female. Of the colored three were male and three female. In wards they were as follows:
First ward 30, Second 61, Third 22,
Fourth 88.

The ages also present an interesting study. Twelve were stillborn and 17 died under the age of one year, while six between the ages of 90 and 100 died during the year. Other deaths by ages are: One to 10 years,

7: 10 to 20, 10; 20 to 30, 6; 30 to 40,
19; 40 to 50, 29; 50 to 60, 15; 60 to 70, 32; 70 to 80, 33; 80 to 90, 25.

There were 55 burials in Hope cemetery, 75 in Grandview and 69 out of the city.

Of the large number of contagious diseases reported, only three resulted in death, one from diphtheria and two from tuberculosis. There were 47 cases of chickenpox; 25 of diphtheria; 152 measles; 6 scarlet fever;
9 syphilis; 108 whooping cough; 12
tuberculosis; 3 typhoid fever.

The birth rate shows 146 males and 144 females, all white, with 1
colored male and 1 colored female.
In wards they were: First 85, second 53, Third 35, Fourth 122. Sixteen children were born in the Central Clinic hospital and 23 in Salem City hospital.

DR. MILES CHOSEN
TO BE MEMBER OF
BOARD OF HEALTH

Mayor To Make Appointment As Schiller's Term
Has Expired.

Dr. E. T. Miles will be appointed a member of the city board of health to succeed Atty. R. L. Schiller, whose term has expired, Mayor J. B. Schaefer advised the board at its meeting Wednesday evening.

The appointment, which must be confirmed by city council, meets with the approval of present members of the board.

The board last year expended only $2,788.88, although the appropriation called for $3,590. Hence more than $800 was saved and the budget for 1924 will be cut even more, because of the shortage of city funds.

Mayor Schaefer, as president ex-officio of the board, occupied the chair for the first time and indicated a desire to co-operate. Mayor Post had not met with the board for many months.

The water situation was discussed informally but no action was proposed. It is probable that the board will seek the co-operation of city council in the adoption of some plan of improvement.

Sanitary Inspector George C. Campbell reported that he had inspected 134 jobs of plumbing during the year and had collected $455.60 in fees. Of the 134 inspections, 53 were in new buildings and of the 81 in old buildings 11 were in houses with accommodations for two families. In 33 cases outside toilets were eliminated, he reported.

The health commissioner's report for December showed 18 deaths and 26 births. Contagious disease cases totalled 28, 24 of chickenpox, 1 diphtheria, 2 tuberculosis and 1 scarlet fever.

CLEVELAND'S SLOT
MACHINES GO; 140
PERSONS ARE HELD

Police Given Free Hand By Safety Director To Get Gamblers.

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—Slot machines have been put out of business in Cleveland, reports at police headquarters today indicate.

With precinct stations piled high with confiscated machines, and 140
persons awaiting trial on permitting gambling, police from Chief Jacob S.
Graul down to the newest patrolman, were ready for the second act in the big drama of "cleaning up Cleveland," which is to be staged today,
with the raiding of the big downtown places where thousands of dollars change hands every day in betting upon horses.

Gamblers—men who have reaped fortunes from those who speculate upon the turn of a card or the speed of a horse—were still skeptical today, as to the good faith of the administration.

The conductor of Cleveland's
"Monte Carlo" closed down his blackjack and crap games yesterday, but passed the word to regular customers, "everything will be all right by Saturday," but the public generally was inclined to believe that the orders would be carried out in good faith.

Director of Public Safety Barry in his latest orders has put the issue squarely up to Chief Graul and the men under him telling them that for the first time in many years the police had a free hand and to go out and "get the gamblers."

elected. They are: Patrol leader,
Irene Parsons; corporal, Florence
Holk; secretary, Elsie Coe; treasurer, Irene Parsons.

The girls will give a party at 7:30
p. m. Friday at the home of the captain.

Miss Tatem Struck
By Auto; In Hospital

Friends here have received word that Miss Muriel Tatem, of Bell Flower, Calif., formerly of Salem, was injured in an automobile accident recently. She was walking along the street when struck by a machine.
She sustained a six-inch cut in the head. She was taken to the hospital and the report received here said

Gibson Entertains
1923 Football Team

Twenty-three members of Salem
High's 1923 football team, Head Coach S. C. Richmond, Assistant Coaches Bruce Swanson and George Nickel, and Faculty Manager R. P.
Vickers were guests of C. C. Gibson at a banquet held in honor of the team at the Elks home at 6:30 p. m.
Wednesday.

Impromptu talks and songs featured the banquet. The team was praised by Mr. Gibson for its fine work in finishing second in the county race.

150 Guests Driven
Out By Hotel Fire

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—One hundred and fifty guests of Hotel Savoy were driven to the streets by smoke which filled rooms and corridors, following fire in the basement.

Orders Philadelphia Clean-up

General Smedley Butler & Major W.F. Kendrick

Brigadier Smedley Butler, fighting Quaker of the marine corps, is shown taking oath of office before Mayor William Freeland Kendrick as Director of Public Safety of Philadelphia. General Butler's first order directed his subordinates to clean up Philadelphia immediately or resign.
The cleanup has started.

Two Hold Wires. One Electrocuted, Other Man Is Not Injured

Columbus, Jan. 10.—When a wire intended as a radio aerial came in contact with an electric light wire, Joseph E. Brenot, 32, was electrocu-ted at the home of a neighbor, Ernest E. Humberstone, whom he was helping install the outfit.

Humberstone sat on a roof, which formed an insulator, when the wires made contact and was not hurt although he held the end of the wire opposite Brenot on the ground.

MOTHER AND SON
KILLED BY TRAIN

Another Child Is Fatally Hurt When Train Hits
Auto At Crossing.

Canton Jan. 10.—Two persons were killed and another fatally hurt at 11
a. m. today at Hartville when a Wheeling and Lake Erie passenger train crashed into an auto.

The dead are:
Mrs. Dan Hosteppler, 30, and her five-year-old son Paul.

Another child, Esther, 3, is unconscious, and is being brought to a Canton hospital.

The Hostepplers live on a farm near here.

Mrs. Hosteppler and her two children had come to Hartville this morning on business and had just purchased a quantity of gasoline and started for the crossing when train blew its whistle. There were several other cars waiting. Mrs. Hosteppler did not hear the approaching train.

The auto was in the center of the track when the train struck it. The two children were hurled from their seats while Mrs. Hosteppler was pinned behind her seat.

Posse Scours Woods
For Axe Murderer;
Score Are Victims

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 10.—With a posse of deputies scouring woods of central Alabama for three ever-clusive suspects, officers today were continuing a hot pace in their three-year search for Birmingham's notorious axe murderer, who in that length of time has hacked to death more than a score of men and women.

The trio, heavily armed and prepared to fight to the finish before submitting to capture, again has slipped through a network of officers about 30 miles north of Montgomery,
according to Birmingham officials.

The posse, however, was said to be close on their trail and District Attorney Jim Davis predicted their capture within the next few hours.

POSSE WIPES OUT
BANDITS' HAMLET

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 10.—
The little hamlet occupied by the bandit gang in the everglades 30 miles north of here, was completely wiped out today by enraged citizens as a result of a pitched battle all day yesterday between officers and the bandits, in which Deputy Sheriff Fred Baker and Joe Ashley, one of the outlaws were killed.

Although only two victims of the ambuscade thus far have been discovered, Sheriff Bob Baker reported that he believed several bandits were killed or seriously wounded, and that their bodies are in the treacherous everglade underbrush.

Attains Altitude
Of 27,000 Feet; 29
Below Zero There

Dayton, O., Jan. 10.—Announcements made today credit Lieut. Harold R. Harris with attaining an altitude of 27,000 feet in a De Havilland airplane, carrying one passenger.

This is within 400 feet of the world record for ships with two men aboard. The plane was equipped with a newly developed side type super-charger.

Further tests will be made shortly.
The altitude was officially calibrated in Washington. A temperature of 29 degrees below zero was encountered.

DURING RAID AT ALTEAN'S CAFE

Right Hand Nearly Severed
When He Falls Through Swinging Door.

LOSES MUCH BLOOD
NOW IN HOSPITAL

Prohibition Officers Nab
Two Men In Raids Wednesday Afternoon.

Earl A. Ritchie of Salem, state prohibition officers and constable, lies in a serious condition in the Salem
City hospital with his right wrist nearly severed, cuts on his other hand and on his body, the wounds being sustained in an attempted raid on the soft drink parlor and restaurant of John Altean, 134 Depot st., about 6-10 p. m. Wednesday.

All the tendons and the artery on his right wrist were cut through and his left hand is badly cut as the result of Ritchie's slipping on a wet floor in the Altean place and falling through a glass door.

Ritchie, with Prohibition Officer
William Watkins and Deputy J. A.
Harry, went to the neighborhood of the Altean place at 6 p. m. Ritchie ordered Watkins and Harry to watch the back while he went in the front way.

Ritchie sauntered past Altean's restaurant and seeing no one in the front part, tiptoed in and walked over to the door that leads to the backroom bar.

Mrs. Altean was with her husband in the back room serving customers.
Someone called for a certain soft drink that is kept in the front where the restaurant tables are.

Mrs. Altean came through the door while Ritchie jumped back, half hidding behind a table. Mrs. Altean did not turn his way and did not hear him, so after procuring the drink for the customer, the woman returned to the back room.

From then on all was action. Ritchie from his bed in the hospital said Thursday morning, telling the graphic story of how he had been cut and not stabbed as reported over the city Thursday.

Ritchie's Story

"I saw them serving liquor in the back room and I wanted to get the goods on them. When no one was watching, I opened the door between the two rooms and sneaked in and hid behind the end of the back bar."

"Mrs. Altean acted as though she might have some liquor in the front, because she stated to the customer that she would have to go again into the front part."

"I decided to follow her when she went in the restaurant, leaving the

GRILLED 39 HOURS,
GRIFFITH ADHERES
FIRMLY TO STORY

Canton Man Is Fatigued In Mind And Body After Murder Quiz.

Canton, Jan. 10.—Thirty-nine hours
on the police griddle and Louis E.
Griffith, 32, president of the United
Mfg. and Machine company, adheres firmly to the important details of his story as to his whereabouts the night
the dead body of Ruth Hunter, 19, was found on the unfrequented Rich-ville-Reedurban rd.

Fatigued in body and mind, Griffith was taken from the Bertillon gallery at police headquarters at midnight Wednesday and locked in cell 14 in the women's compartment of the city prison. No prisoner in the annals of the Canton police department had been grilled as severely or as long as he.

He smiled warmly at the turnkey—evidently glad for an opportunity to rest after 39 hours of incessant questioning by sharp tongues and pointing fingers of city detectives.

Griffith slept well. A turnkey attempted to make him comfortable by furnishing him with the prison's only blanket for his iron cot.

Hold Prisoner 72 Hours

Police Chief S. A. Lengel, one of Griffith's chief interrogators, said Thursday the prisoner would be held until the 72 hours have expired Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

After that Lengel said he would confer with Prosecutor C. B. McClutch and determine whether Griffith would be released or held under charge.

The questioning is over as far as we are concerned but we shall hold the prisoner until the 72 hours have elapsed," Lengel said.

"In the meantime we shall continue to check his alibi. Griffith has been treated kindly by every member of this department and we have been fair with him."

Equally tired and worn with Griffith when the questioning ceased
Wednesday night was Captain Ben
E. Clarke who remained with the prisoner through the 39-hour ordeal, Clarke ate little and slept none during that time.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING
GREATEST MENACE

Mellon Believes Domestic Hooch Traffic Is Under Control.

Washington, Jan. 10.—More rum is being smuggled into the United States than is being manufactured by bootleggers or distillers, according to a statement made at the treasury department today.

Secretary Mellon cited this in the report of the treasury's plan to augment the coast guard with a $20,000-600 fleet of vessels.

He said he did not believe sufficient vessels could be transferred from the navy department to meet the shortage in the coast guard.

Secretary Mellon believes that prohibition enforcement officers have the domestic hooch traffic under control and that smuggling now presents the only serious problem in enforcement.

12 Billions In Tax Exempt Securities,
Experts Announce

Washington, Jan. 10.—Investigation by treasury experts disclose that there are now about $12,500,000,000 in tax exempt securities held by American investors on which the government gets no revenue, it was announced by the treasury department today.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon pointed to this today as an argument for lower surtaxes on incomes. Much of this will be drawn from the frozen field into production if the present heavy surtaxes are reduced.

Three Burn To Death
When Clothes Ignite

Cincinnati, Jan. 10.—Two women are dead from burns caused by clothes. Mrs. Harry H. Ruge, 53, Harrison, O., died from burns received when she attempted to start a fire with coal oil. Mrs. Margaret Pfatzgraf, 94, was burned fatally when her clothes ignited from a coal stove.

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Burns received when her clothes ignited from an open grate resulted in the death today of Margaret Ann Bova, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bova.

High School Classes
Visit Telephone And Citizens Ice Plants

R. P. Vickers, instructor in chemistry and physics at Salem High school, took his physics class on a tour of the Ohio Bell telephone plant here Wednesday afternoon.

H. M. Huffman, manager of the company, told the class how the various departments are worked, and told them of some of the mysteries of the telephone business, in relation to physics and electricity.

Tuesday the chemistry class, in three sections, visited the plant of the Citizens Ice company and watched the making of ice in the big ammonia vats.

Mr. Vickers has arranged many other instructive trips for his pupils.

COMPROMISE TAX REDUCTION PLAN
APPEARS LIKELY

Mellon Plan Can't Pass In Present Form, Leaders
Now Concede.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The Mellon plan of tax reduction has met with such formidable opposition in both senate and house that Republican leaders were privately conceding today it can not be passed in its present form.

Congress will reduce taxes. That much is assured by all factions. And the program laid down by Secretary Mellon will afford the basis of reduction. But the coalition between Democrats and La Follette insurgents, now a matter of record, has virtually assured the defeat of many of the Mellon rates.

Republican leaders have not acknowledged defeat publicly as that would be "bad strategy," but in the privacy of cloak rooms and conference rooms
it is conceded.

As a result of the developments during the week that congress has been back from the holiday, the consensus among Republicans, Democrats, and insurgents today was that as finally adopted the tax reduction plan—represent a compromise between the Mellon plan and the Democratic plan—particularly with respect to the surtaxes on large incomes.

Compromise Certain

Secretary Mellon proposed these surtaxes be reduced from 50 to 25 per cent. The Democrats proposed 44 per cent. The La Follette insurgents want 65 per cent. As matters stood today it appeared probable to both Democratic and Republican leaders that a compromise between 25 per cent and 44 per cent is the most likely solution and the suggested figure is 40 per cent.

While the Republicans are in nominal control of the situation, actually the Democrats are more powerful than the Republicans for heavy reductions on small incomes and only slight reductions on the so-called "millionaire incomes," nearly coincides with what the insurgents want.

The Democratic plan has been shrewdly drawn with just that object in mind.

BARRED BY JURY,
MRS. DIDO WEEPS

Salem Woman Tries To Get Before Grand Jury
Without Reason.

Mrs. John Dido of Salem, mother of six children, made an effort to get before the grand jury Wednesday, but for what reason she could not explain.

Her husband is serving a sentence in the county jail for the non-payment of a liquor fine and the woman has been unable to get the county commissioners and the prosecuting at-

Looking Ahead

THE new year is starting out with much in its favor. It is true that the rate at which industry is moving is less impressive than it was a year ago, but at the same time operating friction has been further reduced. As a result the 1924 business machine is better fitted to stand up under the wear and tear of a long drive than was last year's model.

Furthermore the fundamental working parts which proved successful last year are still in good order. In other words those controlling factors which made 1923 a record year have been carried over into 1924. Let us see what some of them are.

Undoubtedly one of the biggest single factors has been the universal conservatism among those charged with the responsibility of carrying on business. This conservatism being of a quality which was influenced neither by unfounded expectations or a great increase in business nor by the pessimistic opinions occasioned by various happenings throughout the world. Such conservatism inevitably tends to steady industry and trade as a whole and to inspire a widespread confidence in the future.

Other decidedly important factors are:

The legitimate demands of a prosperous and well employed people.

Efficient transportation together with the rehabilitation program mapped out by the railroads.

The continuance of sound credit conditions.

The improvement in the agricultural situation.

Marked activity in building.

Efforts to economize both in production and selling.

The individual tendency to save.

The faith of the people in the business stability of the country.

It is not unreasonable to suppose that the above factors will govern 1924 business activities.

In selecting only the favorable features it is not proposed to draw a curtain of optimism over the unfavorable ones. Their handicaps are fully appreciated but they are overshadowed by those elements which keep business in this country moving in the right direction. For this reason it would appear that the new year can be approached with confidence.

Tut's Sepulchre

THE Carter party appears to have made such swift progress in its excavation work at the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen as to have disclosed already the sepulchral chamber of this dead monarch, who, according to history, died about 3200 years ago. Under favorable conditions, therefore, it is quite possible that within another fortnight the mummified body of this much discussed king will be exhibited to public view.

Nothing however, that the modern pursuit of ancient history can do will disturb this long sleep. King Tut-Ankh-Amen belongs to the ages, so far as his body and his record are concerned. Howard Carter has said officially that there will be no effort made to remove the mummy, so that with the exception of the short period during which pictures will be taken and statistics gathered by historians, this ancient monarch will keep on occupying his ancestral death chamber. To be borne back 3200 years in the annals of the world through these profoundly impressive discoveries will afford to students of early history a most majestic sweep of the centuries. We learn through discovery. Yet we are not despoilers of the dead, and we offer no violence to the traditions of Egypt.

Some will say that it is none of our business as modernists, to dig around in the tomb of this Pharaoh and yet sufficient already has been gained in the way of knowledge of those early times, the arts and crafts of the primitive people, to add immeasurably to our store-house fund of information.

New histories written since these excavations began shall provide additional and valuable thought upon a world that belongs to the daybreak period of time.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of Jan. 10, 1904)

A crowd from city went to Lake park near Alliance, yesterday, where they spent the afternoon in skating. Jan. 29, birthday anniversary of the late president, William McKinley, will be observed throughout the country. The Lullington League of America, instituted as a memorial to the late president, asks that his favorite flower be worn on that day.

Judge W. W. Hole and Atty. J. R. Carey left Saturday for Columbus, where they attended the inauguration of Gov. Herrick. Judge Hole will attend a committee meeting of the State Bar association, which has in charge the preparation of a bill which the legislature will be asked to pass this winter revising and making more stringent the Ohio divorce laws.

The home of Philip Butler, Goshen rd., was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning.

Jesus T. Boone died suddenly at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. He was a victim of paralysis after a short illness.

The typhoid fever epidemic at Butler is on the decline, the deaths to date number almost a hundred. Official reports from the United States mint show that the large sum of $118,000,000 was added to the volume of currency in 1903.

William Smith, first catcher and all around baseball player of the Be- bring baseball team, will be one of the promoters in a trolley race to be formed in and about New Philadelphia the coming season.

Thomas Lister and Miss Irene Stewart of this city have been licensed to wed.

Barking Sands

At certain points along our seacoasts "vocal sands" are found in patches, exhibiting a phenomenon that has never been very satisfactorily explained. The beach at Manchester, N. H., is famous for them.

These sands, when dry, yield a peculiar sound if struck by the foot, or even when stroked by the hand. At the same time a tingling sensation is felt by the fingers or by bare toes.

The sound resembles the distant barking of a dog, and it may sometimes be heard at a distance of 100 feet.

The most remarkable "singing sands" are found on the island of Kauai, one of the Hawaiian group. By clapping them between the hands a faint hooting noise is produced. But the hooting sounds are greatly intensified by putting a quantity in a bag and slapping it about.

EVERYONE WANTS TAXES REDUCED

SECRETARY MELLON'S PLAN CAN NOT BECOME PARTY ISSUE EXCEPT BY FORCE.

COMPLICATED BY THE BONUS

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington. — A representative in congress, after looking at the pile of mail on his desk the other morning, said: "If there is any taxpayer in the United States who has not written in behalf of a reduction of taxes, I would like to know his name. He deserves the Congressional Medal of Honor."

Secretary Mellon's tax reduction plan cannot become a party issue unless one or the other of the two great political organizations forces it to take an issue form. There are Democrats and Republicans who take exception to some of the suggestions made in Mr. Mellon's proposal, but they take no exception at all to the suggestion that taxes shall be cut.

In congress, however, while the thing is not strongly a party issue, there is a row on over the subject. The secretary of the treasury said specifically in a communication written some time ago that the country could not pay a bonus and at the same time reduce taxes. In a second communication Mr. Mellon outlined his plan for tax reduction and said in effect that if it were incorporated into a law, the wage earners of the country, which of course includes salaried men, would have their income taxes cut 44 per cent.

As much as the men who for services rendered get pay checks once a week, or once a month, are numbered by the millions, it readily can be understood how joyfully this message of Secretary Mellon's was received throughout the land. If the letters and the telegrams received at the White House, at the Treasury department, and at the capitol form a basis of judgment, it can be said that the salaried people are unanimous in behalf of the Mellon plan.

Some Say Both Are Possible.

Now there are a lot of things standing in the way of the success of the Mellon plan in congress. Just at this writing the adjusted compensation bill and the tax reduction bill are struggling for precedence. There are senators and representatives who say that the bonus can be granted and tax reduction secured along with it, but there are others who say that the thing "can't be did." However, congress apparently is going to try to do the two things.

Once again a sales tax has been proposed as a means of taking care of the payment to the veterans in case the house and senate shall pass the measure over the presidential veto. Senator Smoot of Utah is one of the chief champions of the sales tax. If such a tax shall be authorized it is said that it will add about one-eighth of one per cent to the cost of ordinary purchases in the stores, "a tax so small that nobody will feel it."

The opponents of the sales tax, however, say that while one-eighth of one per cent means nothing to a man or woman when a small purchase is made, it will mean a lot to them when they come to add up the amounts of their purchases at the end of a year. In other words, the opponents of the sales tax say it is a sort of camouflage tax and that it will get in its work just the same even if during the days of passing purchases it is not noticed.

Veto by Coolidge Is Certain.

There is no evidence that the President intends in any way to recede from the position which he has taken on the bonus and which he outlined in his speech to congress. Therefore, it is just as certain today that a veto will come as it was on another day, and it also is just as certain that congress will pass a bonus bill and give the President a chance to enter his forbidding objection.

It still is unsafe to prophesy definitely what will happen in the senate when the bonus measure comes back to it from the White House with the disapproval mark on it. Senator Smoot the other day said there were enough votes in the senate to pass the measure over the presidential veto. There are other senators, however, who think to the contrary.

The hope of the persons who are opposed to the enactment of an adjusted compensation law is that, when the tax reduction bill is outlined definitely and it becomes apparent that the taxes cannot be cut in accordance with the measure unless the bonus is defeated, senatorial sentiment will shift and that the President's veto will be allowed to stand.

A member of congress the other day paraphrased an old rhyme thus: "Taxation is vexation and the bonus is bad."

This seems to sum up the situation so far as congress is concerned. Virtually every member in the house and most of the members in the senate desire to pass the bonus bill and desire at the same time that there shall be tax reduction. They find themselves wishing today that adjusted compensation might have been put up to the veterans of the service for a referendum vote.

TODAY'S OVERLOOKED WORDS

Many of Them Are Worn So Threadbare That a Dictionary Seems Needless.

The sterling qualities of the active individual nowadays must shine through his conversation, his purpose, his thought, and those he borrowed must be riveted in the hearer's mind by words which cannot be forgotten. Unfortunately many of those engaged in great purposes have lamentably failed to augment their vocabularies by reference to a book of synonyms. Thus we are suffering from the overwork of a few words, says the Spokane Spokesman-Review.

The idea now is to "sell something"—an idea, a state, a climate. There must be a "selling appeal," a "sales plan," and then it is sure to "go over." It "absolutely" cannot fail. You must agree "absolutely" that the weather is good, bad or indifferent or the "efficiency" bound will put "klick" and "pep" into his arguments until you "shoot," listen and become convinced.

But having been "sold" is not enough for the builder of the "atmosphere" in which you were trapped. He will want to know—must know, in fact—your "reactions." Ah, the reaction. There is a word both subtle and enthralling. You can have reactions to a book, a piece of cheese, a miserable blowout or a bonfire. That is where the "pepful efficiency" person must check the flow of his "sales talk" long enough to listen.

So you ask him to please pass the butter and wonder why they spend time and money printing dictionaries.

SHOOT PHONE POLE IN TWO

Expert Marksmen Save Lines in Flood in Western Canada by Using Rifles.

An instance of the resourcefulness often required to keep telephone lines in successful operation—and a new justification of the title of "trouble shooter"—as applied to a telephone lineman—occurred during a recent flood season in western Canada, says the Telephone Press Service. Two telephone linemen in Alberta were suddenly faced by the question of how to save a line which was supported by a pole that rested in the bed of a swollen stream and seemed in danger every moment of being carried away by logs floating down the swift current of the river.

It was utterly impossible to reach the pole, but the resourceful linemen saved the situation by severing the pole below the cross-arms. This was accomplished with thirty-five well-directed shots from a high-powered rifle. The bullets cut the pole and left the line—with the pole top and cross-arms hanging from it—supported by the firmly set poles on either bank of the river and unmenaced by the surging waters.

SAVINGS MORE THAN DOUBLE IN DECADE

New York.—Reported savings deposits in banks and trust companies of the United States have more than doubled in amount during the past decade, and the number of accounts have increased by about 141 per cent, figures compiled by the Savings Bank Division, American Bankers Association, show.

"If distributed equally among an entire population the savings deposits in 1912 would have given $39 to each adult and child in the country," the Division's report says, "but in 1922 the portion of each would have been no less than $158."

The officially reported savings deposits are as follows:

	Deposits	Accounts
1912 .....	$3,425,275,000	12,584,316
1922 .....	17,331,479,000	39,323,320
Increase ..	105.7%	140.9%

"This remarkable growth is attributable to improvement in the services of the banks for savers and to the more consistent canvass for accounts through advertising and soliciting," the report says.

An attractive home ceremony at 5 p. m. Wednesday was that which solemnized the marriage of Mrs. Virginia Carrell Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McCoy of Walnut st., Pittsburg, and Chester C. Miss Abbie McCoy was her sister's maid of honor, while Miss Mary Dwyer of La Junta, Col., was bridesmaid. Both wore frocks of black chiffon with hats of black and silver mauline and carried pink roses and lilies of the valley. During the ceremony there was music by Mrs. C. McCoy.

A dinner supplemented the ceremony. Covers were laid for 12 at the bridal table, where pink and white roses formed the decorations. Out of town guests included Mrs. M. Barringer and Mrs. C. ## SPEED REDUCED TO FIGURES

"Going at the rate of sixty miles an hour" is an expression read to many writers, both of fiction and of fact. Just what does this mean from the prosaic standpoint of science? What if an automobile proceeding at the rate of 60 miles an hour should come to a sudden stop, such as, for instance, by striking a heavy bridge abutment? A fair idea of the completeness of the wreck may be had by imagining the machine falling from a height of 120 feet or from the top of a ten-story office building. An object falling from a height of 120 feet would have the same velocity at the instant of striking the ground as the motorcar would have when traveling 60 miles an hour. The energy possessed by a 2,400-pound automobile traveling at the rate of 60 miles an hour is 200,000 foot pounds, which is the same as that of a body weighing 1,000 pounds at the instant of striking the ground from a drop of 200 feet.

Were a resistance of 6,000 pounds applied to the automobile it would come to rest in a distance of 44 feet in one second of time, and in coming to rest would be doing work at an average rate of over 257 horse-power.—New York Herald.

Proved.

Some archeologists excavating on the border of the Sudan, upon breaking camp, neatly buried their salmon and sardine tins. Another scientist came along and happened to dig on this same site. Pretty soon he held up a can embellished with the picture of a plump golden salmon.

"Alia," he exclaimed. "Now I have evidence in support of my theory that the Sahara was once an inland sea."

SMALL BEGINNINGS SHOW BIG RESULTS

Many great enterprises begin in a small way. Many a successful advertiser has begun by using classified advertisement in a modest way. These brought good returns, which enabled the business to be developed, and eventually large advertisements were profitably used. Intelligent use of the little ads in The Salem News either by advertisement or reader, will prove to you.

"I jumped up and tried to follow her, but the floor was slippery and she had too good a start, slamming the swinging door in my face.

"To save myself from having my fingers cut off in the door, I attempted to turn and in doing so slipped and fell through the glass door, saving my face by throwing up my hand.

"The glass cut both my hands, and blood spurted from my wrist, soaking me with blood. Mrs. Altman screamed, and then things began to turn black.

"I extricated myself with difficulty and ran out of the building and up the street three blocks to my car.

"Harry heard me yell, and he jumped in the car and took me to the hospital. I was losing so much blood that I thought all would be up before we got there."

Ritchie, after walking to the operating room, collapsed, and was unconscious most of the night. His wife, a student nurse, took charge of her husband.

Thursday morning his physician stated that he believed the hand could be saved. All but one tendon is cut clear off, the remaining hanging by a thread. The great loss of blood nearly resulted in his death but he is vastly improved.

Two Other Raids

Ritchie stated that he had planned on a quick raid there following his other two raids earlier in the afternoon.

At 3 p. m. the three officers went to the Italian restaurant 114 Broadway, and arrested the proprietor, Frank Ciccozzi, on the charge of possession of liquor. Ritchie finding a quantity of white corn whisky hidden near some groceries.

Ciccozzi, who has been arrested before on the same charge, was taken to city jail and the officers then visited a place so near the city hall that it can be reached in half a minute.

It is the Dixie lunch room, 6 Depot st. George Lecour, the Greek proprietor, was arrested on the charge of possession when the officers found a pint bottle half full of white mule. Lecour and Ciccozzi were given preliminary hearings before Mayor J. R. Schaeffer and Lecour's trial was set for 10 a. m. Thursday, with Ciccozzi to come in Friday afternoon. Lecour, however, had his case postponed Thursday morning and will not be heard until Monday.

VETERANS' BUREAU PROBE GOES ON

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TAKES UP INQUIRY INTO CONDUCT OF FORMER OFFICIALS.

POLITICAL 'PULL' INTERFERES

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—An investigation has been started into the alleged criminal conduct of certain officials and employees of the veterans' bureau and of some others prior to the time that the changes were made in the management of the office which was established to conserve the interests of ex-service men.

John W. H. Crim of New York, one time assistant attorney general of the United States, but now in private practice, has been retained by Attorney General Daugherty for service in the case.

The investigation by a senate committee into the affairs of the bureau is now past history, and the proceedings may have lost some of their interest, but the fear in ex-service men's minds in Washington is that past history will remain past history and that men who it is thought are guilty will escape punishment.

It is a hard thing to convict government officers of what in a general way may be called malfeasance in office. All sorts of things war against proper prosecution and proper punishment. In the first place, there never was an official, no matter how guilty, but had his political backing. Most of the appointees to the higher government positions are political appointees. The majority of them are backed for appointment by senators, representatives, cabinet officers or influential state officials belonging to the party which happens to be in power in Washington at the time. Republicans and Democrats alike seemingly are strong for the spoils when power is given to their party. It is only on rare occasions that men are given places in the government service by appointment who are not pushed for preference by some of the politicians.

Convictions Are Difficult.

It is perfectly true that presidents of the United States try to determine in advance a man's fitness for a place before they will give him an appointment. In the view of the politician, however, who wants to secure preference for somebody, the somebody always is able, conscientious and a hard worker. Frequently it turns out that the appointee is just the reverse of what he is said to be.

Already there are evidences that there may be great difficulty in securing the conviction of men charged with using their veterans' bureau offices for improper purposes. One of the great scandals, details of which were disclosed at the senate hearing, already is being said was the result of stupidity and of no desire for personal profit.

Every former soldier in Washington who knows anything about the situation is ready to admit that stupidity sat in several seats in the bureau in the days not so long ago, but there are also many former soldiers, most of them in fact who seem to believe that stupidity had wicked intent as a side partner.

Former Assistant Attorney General Crim, who will conduct the case in behalf of the government, is a digger after facts. It is believed that he will do what he can to bring the guilty, if there are any such, to book, but it is also feared that underhand attempts will be made to hamper the work of investigation.

Backers of the Accused Are Known.

Virtually everybody in Washington who takes any interest in public affairs knows the names of the politicians who urged the appointments of some of the veterans' bureau officials who have been under fire. Nearly everybody knows also the influences which are back of some of the men who it is said conspired with some bureau officials to profit at the expense of the government and of the ex-service men. It is taken for granted that the politicians who urged the appointment of men who proved to be unfit will make every attempt to prevent a disclosure of their connection with the cases, and will not be any too forward in helping the government in its investigation.

The greater offenses disclosed before the senate committee had to do with the making of contracts for the building of hospitals and the purchases of sites. In addition there were, and of course still are charges that government property was sold at a great loss and without proper competitive bids and that the men who manipulated the sales shared in the profits with the purchasers of the goods.

The whole story of the exploitation of the veterans' bureau for purposes of personal profit is a sordid one. It is known definitely that many veterans suffered because of the doings within the bureau and that some other veterans who had political backing were given compensation which they did not deserve. One thing has been proved as a result of the senate investigation into the bureau. Government property was sold without the use of ordinary care to safeguard the treasury. One former service man has said that in most of the sales of government property either cupidity or stupidity was involved.

THEATRES

"The Eternal Struggle" a Metro picture directed by Reginald Barker, which opens Thursday night at the High School Auditorium, is the crowning achievement of Mr. Barker's distinguished and unusual career.

Mr. Barker has a national reputation for production of virtue tales of the outdoors and is consequently known as a man's director. The fact that many now prominent directors at one time acted in his casts has also earned for him the title among his colleagues of a "director's director."

"The Eternal Struggle" a Louis B. Mayer presentation through Metro based upon G. B. Lancaster's novel "The Law Bringers."

The cast includes: Kenzie Adcock, Barbara La Marr, Karl Williams, Pat O'Leary and Wallace Beery.

"Brass" What is the secret of happiness in marriage? Some say a comfortable home, other congenial relationship between husband and wife.

Charles G. Norris, author of "Brass," the novel, adapted for the screen, thinks neither of the above accounts wholly for happy marriages. "The secret lies," he believes, "in the struggle for it. No marriage has ever made happy without a dis-ting effort on the part of both husband and wife to make it so. Warped happiness, in short, is not an accident, not a gift of the gods. It is a structure which two build.

"Brass" go to wreck and ruin, plunging into tragedies and unhappiness. Monte Blue has the featured part as Philip, while Marie Prevost is Marjorie.

"Brass" is a Warner Brothers' classic of the screen and will be shown beginning Thursday at the State theatre.

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this phase, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend," Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa.

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse. We had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes. 'Mother's Friend' is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

FLOOD OF ALIENS WILL BE CHECKED

CONGRESS SEEMS CERTAIN TO PUT FURTHER RESTRICTIONS ON IMMIGRATION.

HELD TO BE GOOD POLITICS

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—Doubt about other legislation may exist, but congress is certain to provide at the present session for a new immigration law. The present restriction laws expire by limitation next summer. New regulations not only will be but must be framed and indorsed.

Congress has taken only a mild interest in the suggestions which have come from attendants at the national immigration conference which has just been held in New York. Pleas were made at that conference in behalf of solving the problems this way or that way. Congress apparently is going to solve it, or rather to try to solve it, in just one way—by a strengthening of the restriction law.

In the senate the leaders are in favor of further restriction, and this condition holds in the house. Why? Well, one does not have to search far for the answer. There have been some rather under-the-surface movements in the country recently which make it appear that a majority of Americans, and a big majority at that, believe not in letting down the bars, but in nailing them higher.

It has been known for some years that organized labor desires that the flood of immigrants shall be checked. It is not organized labor, however, which has produced the change which has come over congress recently. The members of the two houses seem to believe that pretty nearly everybody in the country, except some of the great industrial chieftains who are looking for cheap labor, not only stands opposed to an increase in the influx, but stands in favor of means to decrease its volume. Some years ago it was good politics for most of the senators and representatives to oppose restrictive laws. Today it is good politics to favor them.

Racial Considerations Move Some.

There are some members of the house who hail from the big cities who will oppose further restrictions, and in fact are likely to favor more lenient legislation in behalf of intending immigrants, but it is held these men are not moved either by the plea of the industrial chieftains for cheaper labor, or by belief that America ought to be a refuge for anybody who wants to come here. They are moved, it is charged, solely by racial considerations.

In many cases these representatives who hail from great cities are of the old native stock, but the voters who send them to congress either are comparatively recent imports, or have lingering with them that love of their race which moves them to desire a larger or old homeland companionship in this country.

If one can depend upon the signs of the times, it seems to be assured that after the first day of next July immigrants will have a harder time to get into the United States than they are having today. The bulk of the politicians, once friendly to the flood, now seemingly will hail an ebb.

Inspection Agencies Considered.

It may be that something will be done in a legislative way to establish inspection agencies abroad to handle immigration and properly to direct it. This would cost a lot of money and necessitate the setting up of somewhat elaborate machinery, and there are members of congress who do not believe the machine would work after it was set up.

It is said that if this legislative plan is adopted and consuls or consular agents or other agents of the government, shall undertake the inspection work on the other side of the water, hardships will come to the foreigners who want to come here to which the hardships of those who are turned back from this side are as nothing. Foreign agencies cannot be established in every place. It is said that hundreds of thousands of foreigners desiring to come to America will leave their homes to go to the nearest inspection point, and that not only by sheer force of numbers will they make work impossible, but the vast majority of them will be disappointed in their endeavors and will find themselves stranded far from home.

Today in congress the subject of immigration is being given consideration. There will be hearings on the matter, but hearings or no hearings, it seems to be an absolutely safe prophecy that immigration into the United States, as a result of the action of the present congress, will be checked, even in the face of the plea that the number of foreigners admitted at present is not sufficient to keep the labor scales in this country at even.

Knew Where They Were.
"Here is an item of some scientific interest," remarked Hoffy at the club, the members of the window lyceum being assembled.

"It seems the great auk has been extinct for at least fifty years. Was just seen around the arctic circle. Now a collector offers $2,000 for one of its eggs."

"I think I'll make a try for that prize," declared Cuthbert.
"Going to the arctic circle?"

FINDER OF THE MAGIC RING

Story of Gyges and His Romantic Rise to the Throne of Lydia.

Gyges, king of Lydia about 687 to 657 B. C., was, according to Greek legend, a shepherd. One day he found a ring which made the wearer invisible, on the body of a man discovered inside a brazen horse.

The thief king boasted of his queen's beauty to Gyges and surreptitiously introduced him into her chamber to convince him, says the Greek legend.

Indignant at the impropriety, the queen later sent for Gyges and gave him the choice of killing her husband and marrying her or of being himself murdered. Naturally Gyges chose the former alternative and, with the aid of the magic ring, he was enabled to enter the king's chamber unseen and to slay him.

Another version of the story says that Gyges fell in love with the queen and the king sentenced Gyges to death. The latter murdered the king on the night before the day set for his own execution and seized the throne and married the queen.

CONTROL BOARD ASKS FOR PLAN

Would Remove Health Menaces
at Buckeye Lake.

WILLING TO TAKE UP PROBLEM

McAdoo's Campaign Manager Holds Conferences With Ohio Democratic Leaders—Headquarters Established
For the Burke-Ford-Governor Campaign—Prices of Farm Products
Lower Than at Close of 1922.

Columbus, Jan. 9.—State Senator
J. F. Atwood, on behalf of other members of the state board of control, announced that the control board will allow the state to proceed to clean up or fill in the barrow pits
at Buckeye Lake when the department of health and public works presents to the board a plan that will make the lake safe.

Dr. John Monger, director of health, who threatened last week to close the resort unless health menaces were removed, did not appear before the board of control in person, nor was there any request to better conditions presented by him or the highway department, which controls the lake, and therefore nothing was before the board to be acted upon officially, says
Mr. Atwood in his statement.

A committee of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club, Mr. Dittoe, health engineer, and Mr. Bontin of the department of public works, appeared before the board and for the first time acquainted the board with the situation regarding barrow pits at the lake," the statement asserts.

The board was asked to furnish money to fill barrow pits along the bank for some three and one-half miles. It was stated that it would take at least $50,000 for this work, and they wanted $15,000 to start it.
Dittoe, it was set forth, estimated the work would cost in all $125,000.

The board, in its statement, said it requested the department of public works to put its plan on paper, since only a guess was presented as to the cost.

At no time did the board refuse to consider the matter, the statement said. The board also cited the condition of the emergency fund, pointing out that of $250,000 appropriated, there was only $85,000 left to carry all state departments to July 1. The board dare not reduce this sum to such an extent that an emergency could not be properly handled, the statement concluded.

The thirty-ninth annual meeting of the Associated Ohio Dailies will be held at the Deshler hotel in this city, beginning at 1 p. m. Feb. 5 and continuing through the next day, with a dinner. The afternoon of Feb. 6 will be given over to group meetings, including the Buckeye Press association members and Scripps-Howard papers.

In Townsend hall, at the Ohio State university, there will be an exhibit of weeklies and small city dailies, which will be judged for community service,
local news and first page make-up.
Last year there were 31 entries in this contest, and more are expected this year, as the classes are more numerous. This part of the program is being arranged by Osman C. Hooper and Russell Lord of the department of journalism. Bristow Adams of Cornell university again will be the judge and will make the awards for the dailies Tuesday and for the weeklies Thursday.

The Buckeye Press association will begin its sessions Thursday afternoon in Townsend hall and will hold an evening session with dinner at the Ohio Union. Students of the department of journalism will be present.
Besides the speaking program, there will be singing by a quartet of students and a skit by the girls of Theta Sigma Phi. Sessions Friday, Feb. 8, will be held at the Chittenden and will be devoted largely to consideration of the select list advertising project, ending it is expected, in perfection of an organization. Forty newspapers are enrolled, through the activity of a committee appointed last year.

Judge David L. Rockwell of Ravena, national director of the William G. McAdoo campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, held conferences here with leading Democrats of the state. He said that letters received at McAdoo headquarters in Chicago indicated that Ohio is stronger than any other state in the Union for McAdoo. He added:

"It is evident that the McAdoo sentiment everywhere and among all people, not closely identified with the interests, is growing rapidly. Democrats realize their greatest hope of success in the coming fall is to nominate a man who possesses those elements of strength and sincerity most closely identified with the best interests of the great body of the people, irrespective of class. Those who have identified themselves with the campaign of Mr. McAdoo are convinced that he represents more completely than any other man the needed qualities to make an appeal to the voters."

THE NEWS RADIO QUESTION BOX

Answers furnished by John Meyer, radio builder, of Woodland ave.

Q—I have been getting wonderful results with the inclosed circuit and would like to have a hookup to add one stage of radio-frequency. What is the maximum range of this circuit with one stage of radio and one stage of audio frequency? E. P.

A—The circuit is the standard
Corry and one stage of radio frequency amplification cannot be added with satisfactory results without redesigning the whole circuit. You will not increase your range by adding audio-frequency amplification but will be able to hear weak stations
which you hear only faintly.

Q—I built a Colpits circuit and so far have been unable to receive anything outside of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland stations. Is the three-circuit regenerative a good set. What is the receiving radius? F. S.

A—You will probably be able to improve the receiving radius of your set by increasing the plate voltage.
Where a hard tube, such as the WD 12, UV 199 or UV 201A is used on the detector, the plate voltage must be increased to 45 or 60 volts. Increase the plate voltage until you are able to make the phones "pop" when the dials are rotated. Learn to receive distant stations near the popping point. The three circuit set is very selective and has a fair range, although not as great a range as the single circuit set.

Failure to Sweat is a Fundamental Cause of Debility and Disease

There is no known method of inducing perspiration equal to the use of the Electric Light Bath. Mothers who are "all run down," children suffering from defective nutrition or poor circulation, will find the Bath a wonderful restorative of physical and mental energy. The worn-out business man will find splendid increase of mental energy—a stimulant to muscle and brain in the tonic of this penetrating, radiant energy, a help which every brain worker needs to pull him through the fag of the day. The blood is called to nourish the brain cells to the detriment of the rest of the body, but a few minutes in the Light Bath equalizes energy and does wonders to tone, rest, build and renew for the day's demands.
For ten years we have made much use of the Electric Light Bath in combination with the general administration of the Sinusoidal Electric Bath. The results have been excellent.

For those wishing an Electric Bath, Salt Glow, Massage and

Find Way to Use Burned Out Coils

Radio Fans Discover Use for Junked Automobile Apparatus.

The radio fan enjoys nothing more than to pick up some piece of cast-off apparatus for a song and by a little tinkering make it live again as an efficient part.

When the vibrator points stick and burn, the fond owner, after coaxing his pet to the nearest garage, is often told that a coil is burned out and is sold a new one on the spot. As a result it is possible to get coils with the secondaries in perfect condition for about fifty cents each.

Several choke coil amplifiers have been built, using automobile coils for the chokes, and have proved more efficient than transformers. While the coils can be used as they are, they are rather bulky, and a neat appearing coil can be turned out that takes up very little room and can easily be mounted on the panel.

Remove the wood case from the coil and carefully chip off the wax insulation from the secondary, working very cautiously as the last of the wax is removed. It will be found that the secondary is wound in two pieces, separated somewhat more than an inch, with cardboard tube insulation between primary and secondary. After being sure the connection between the two coils of the secondary is in good condition, the two sections should be slid snugly together on the cardboard tube.

The primary and iron core should now be pulled out of the tube, and the ends of the tube cut off, leaving about one-half inch projecting from each end of the secondary.

The primary winding is then removed from the iron core, and the core itself is cut off so that it is a trifle shorter than the secondary windings. It should then be wound with tape to take the place of the wire removed and inserted in the cardboard tube. A little of the wax is melted and poured in each end until a layer about one-eighth inch thick is formed.

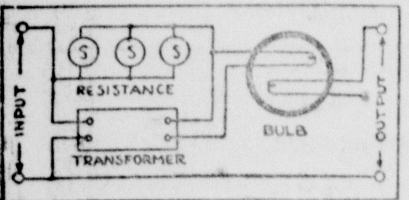

Two pieces one inch long are sawed from an old switch blade. The two free ends of the secondary winding are threaded through holes punched in each end of the cardboard tube and soldered to the pieces of switch blade. The two pieces are then inserted in the tube as far as they will go, taking care to have them in line and hot wax poured around them until the cardboard tube is full. Several turns of Empire paper are glued around the secondary and the coil is finished.

For panel mounting two switch jaws of the correct height are mounted at the proper distance on the panel, and the coil is snapped into place.

A well designed choke coil amplifier is claimed to give more volume of sound than one constructed with transformers, and much less distortion.

Double Filament Bulb for Battery Charger

Electrolytic rectifiers are usually used where small direct currents are required, such as for charging batteries. However, this type of rectifier is troublesome and dirty and therefore not very desirable. A far more efficient instrument is shown in the illustration. It consists of a double filament automobile headlight bulb used for the rectifying unit and a step down transformer having the proper secondary voltage to light one filament of the globe. The other filament is not lighted, but used in place of the plate common to bulbs made for this purpose.

A variable resistance consisting of a water rheostat or a lamp bank is placed in series with the bulb to bring the voltage down to the required pressure. When large currents are required it is advisable to connect three or four of these bulbs in parallel.

For Silent Operation.

Shield the back of the panel with a thin sheet of metal, solder all connections tightly, make sure that the switch points and arms are not loose, use spaghetti with wires coming from the tops of the vacuum tubes, and insert a variable grid leak in the circuit. By this method it is often possible to get rid of most of the unpleasant noises.

Scientists Will Study Mars In Her Greatest Brilliance

Washington, Jan. 10. Science may leap over millions of miles of space to penetrate the veil of mystery surrounding the red glowing planet Mars this year. Dr. W. B. Coblentz of the United States bureau of standards and nationally known astronomer, declared today.

Mars will reach her period of greatest brilliance in half a century during the summer and astronomers from all parts of the country will flock to the observatories in the west and southwest to make the most of an opportunity that will not present itself again until about 1976, according to Dr. Coblentz.

Dr. Coblentz will go to Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., to continue his study of heat radiations of Mars as well as the other planets. For more than a year the bureau of standards expert has been studying planet heat radiation by use of a spectroscopic.

Fifty years ago astronomers observed Mars at her periodical zenith of brilliance with a scientific interest that was probably mixed with superstition. In 1924, however, with astronomical instruments perfected to a remarkable degree, it is anticipated that important discoveries will be made.

The thin atmosphere about Mars, coupled with the expected brilliance of the planet within the next eight months, will offer astronomers their greatest opportunity of modern times according to Dr. Coblentz.

"There are two schools in astronomy, one holding that there is animal life on Mars, and the other that conditions are not conducive to life," Dr. Coblentz said. Perhaps this summer with Mars at her brilliant period, something definite will be learned.

Dr. Coblentz cannot believe there is further life on Mars than that of planets such as are found around terrestrial polar regions.

Cleveland—Episcopal, Congregational and Presbyterian ministers of Cleveland will hold a joint meeting here Jan. 21.

HOMEWORTH

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thomas were in Alliance Monday.

Miss Susie Borton of Beloit was the guest of Mrs. Dora M. Thomas over Sunday.

C. T. Gross has been very ill the past week.

BENDER DRY LAW FILLS UP JAILS

Director McDonald to Pass Up on Clemency Applications.

ACTION TAKEN BY GOVERNOR

Major Buescher's Early Appointment as Head of Boys' Industrial School Indicated by Result of Recent Examination — Utilities Commission Would Save Interurban Roads From Disaster.

Columbus, Jan. 4.—As a result of the flood of applications for pardons presented on behalf of liquor law violators, who claim they have been assessed excessive fines and who face terms of from one to seven years, Governor Donahy has notified State Probation Director B. F. McDonald that he will turn over to him the responsibility of pardoning violators of the Bender prohibition act. Under provision of the Bender law, which makes liquor manufacture a felony, violators convicted under it can not have their fines remitted in part or in whole, or their sentences in any degree commuted.

As a result of the strictness of the law, which was enacted at the last session of the legislature, indigent violators who are given stiff fines by trial judges are faced with the necessity of working them out and in many of these cases the fines are so heavy as to call for long sentences.

Mr. McDonald will constitute the "prohibition clemency board" and will pass on all applications. Governor Donahy will take no action without McDonald's recommendation.

"I have in mind cases right now," McDonald said, "where I shall recommend pardon without hesitation, cases in which I believe fines were excessive, particularly on first offenders."

Ever-growing numbers of such indigent violators are filling up the jails and prisons of the state and the pardoning power of the governor is expected to be called upon at once.

In Franklin county judges have not been remitting or suspending the fines imposed upon persons convicted of a violation of the prohibition laws, but have been arranging a system for the payment by installments of fines imposed.

As a result of the certification of names of those who passed the recent examination of the state civil service commission, early appointment of Major A. M. Buescher as permanent superintendent of the Boys' Industrial school, Lancaster, is indicated.

Major Buescher, who has been connected with the school for many years, stood first on the list; H. H. Shier, former head of the state division of charities, second, and John A. Eisenhauer, Cleveland, third.

The position was offered Major Buescher several months ago, and, because of his war record, the appointment could have been made without the necessity of a competitive examination. The position, however, was declined and the school has for almost a year been under the direct charge of John McNamara, assistant welfare director. During all this time Major Buescher has been assistant superintendent of the institution.

When Captain R. U. Hastings was removed as superintendent, Major Buescher also resigned, and for several months was employed at the Ohio State university, where he remained until he returned as assistant superintendent last spring.

John E. Harper, welfare director, is completing his vacation in Jackson county, but upon his return it is expected that the appointment of Major Buescher will be announced.

Announcement has been made of the program for the annual meeting of the Ohio Beekeepers' association, to be held on Thursday and Friday during Farmers' week, Feb. 4 to 8, at Ohio State university. It includes such well known teachers and beekeepers as Dr. E. F. Phillips, bureau of entomology at Washington and a product of Ohio; Professor Sherman W. Blasing, Texas Agricultural college, another Ohioan; E. R. Root of the A. I. Root company, and Professor H. F. Wilson, head of the division of beekeeping, University of Wisconsin and president of the American Honey Producers' league.

Among important business which will be considered at this meeting will be an active campaign to organize county associations and to seek their affiliation with the state body. The matter of increased appropriation to carry on inspection work in the fight against bee diseases will be worked out for presentation to the next legislature.

State Highway Director Boulay has issued a statement as to gravel road progress in Ohio and a defense of that type of construction. He lets it be known that a total of 82 miles of gravel roads has already been completed and that the department entered into agreement with 20 counties for 400 miles more, to be finished by the end of next construction season. Gravel road construction in counties that can not co-operate with the state on high priced pavements is costing less than $3,000 a mile, the director said, and some miles have been done for less than $1,500, notably eight miles of a 14-mile stretch in Washington county, an important link in the Marietta-Zanesville road. An 18-mile link in the Three C's highway in Warren county has been completed at less than $3,000 a mile, Boulay said, including ditching and repairs to bridges.

Uninterrupted travel along the Ohio river road from Hamilton to Belmont counties, a distance of 312 miles, by the end of next fall is practically assured, the statement avers. Unimproved portions totaling 180 miles will be constructed of gravel. This is the route of the Atlantic-Pacific highway. Gravel roads have pulled hill counties adjacent to the Ohio river out of the mud, Mr. Boulay said. "Under this system serviceable roads are provided until time is ripe for other construction," the statement reads, "and even then the gravel or stone foundation is a valuable asset because under the progressive system of building, each step includes the use of previous construction. The gravel road program is in charge of Raymond H. Smith, former Champaign county surveyor and a Republican."

The 20 counties with which gravel road projects have been entered into are Adams, Athens, Brown, Champaign, Clermont, Fayette, Gallia, Hocking, Holmes, Jackson, Lawrence, Licking, Meigs, Monroe, Pike, Tuscarawas, Morgan, Warren, Washington and Wayne.

In spite of the fact that his declaration of candidacy has been rejected by Secretary of State Brown, Mayor Fred Kohler of Cleveland says he is going to be a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention at Cleveland. Kohler announced his first choice was President Calvin Coolidge, with Senator Hiram W. Johnson as second choice candidate. His declaration was rejected at the secretary of state's office because "neither of the parties named as first and second choice candidates have qualified as candidates in Ohio."

Kohler says he hopes to obtain signatures of the president and senator before he leaves for a trip to South America next week.

Kohler's move is looked upon by politicians here as a "feeler" toward the governorship. Reports that the mayor would be a candidate have been circulated for some time, but he has steadfastly refused to confirm them. It is pointed out that his declaration for delegate-at-large will give him a chance in the April primaries to see how the down-state folks regard him. Colonel Carmi A. Thompson and former Governor Harry L. Davis, both of whom are expected to run for governor, are likewise expected to be candidates for delegate-at-large. Congressman Theodore E. Burton, also talked of as a candidate, has powerful support for delegate-at-large.

Secretary of State Brown said that before Mr. Kohler could qualify as a candidate for delegate-at-large it will be necessary for him to obtain the written approval of the candidate, he wishes to support. This ruling, Mr. Brown said, neither affirms nor disaffirms the ruling made by former Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith, but is merely in compliance with section 4954-4955 of the general code of Ohio.

The Ohio public utilities commission, by refusing to grant certificates to five motor bus owners operating between Columbus and Chillicothe, is believed to have taken its initial step toward saving interurban railroads from disaster because of the growing motor bus competition. Refusal was made, it was said, on the grounds that the public is adequately served by the Scioto Valley Traction Company between Chillicothe and Columbus.

There is no definite assurance that the motor bus is here to stay, according to the commission, which also declares that traction companies were entitled to protection because of the large amount of capital invested. Since the advent of bus line the revenues of the traction company had fallen off to such an extent that disaster might follow if assistance was not given, according to officials. Eleven of the traction company's 1 cars are now habitually idle.

The five motor buses were compelled to make formal application for certificates owing to the fact that they were not in operation on Apr. 23. In its decision the commission said that it was of the opinion that such a certificate should be granted upon application "only when the existing transportation facilities for a route can not be made to meet the demands of public convenience."

J. B. McLain, Roy Stevenson, J. Fessell, L. S. Cullison and T. J. Jones, operating as the Red Star transportation company, were the bus operators refused certificates. It is expected that the bus operators will carry the case to the supreme court for judicial determination of the commission's position, public utilities authorities said.

Some time ago the commission granted a certificate to a bus operator to ply between Chillicothe and Portsmouth, where it does not compete with a traction line.

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES

America has the best life on this earth because it has the best advertised life, says Colonel W. G. Edens of the Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association. He goes on: "American health is the best in the world because American people are best informed in the ways and habits of health, largely through advertising. American business is the largest and most successful in the world because it uses advertising the most. American business men enlarge their business institutions in proportion as they advertise them. American buyers become more shrewd in spending their money in proportion as they read advertisements."

"The press of the United States is regarded by many as the most powerful of our institutions. It must be numbered with the schools and the churches as one of the trinity of most powerful creators of knowledge and patriotism."

"Advertising is what it is today largely because of the power and success of the daily paper. Nevertheless, it is true that the daily paper is as successful as it is today because of advertising."

"The banking business has been benefited largely by advertising within the last dozen or fifteen years. Banking institutions have done more advertising than ever before. They have installed advertising departments which acquaint their communities with facts formerly regarded in the light of institutional secrets. The banker publishes facts which build up confidence in his institution."

"The result has been that millions of people who formerly would not place their money in the care of bankers, but who hoarded it at home, entrusted it to friends, or invested it in wildcat speculations, now regard the bank as the safest place in the world. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been brought from their hiding places and placed in circulation, much to the advance of America and American institutions, as well as American business. Newspaper advertising has done more for American banks in the last dozen years than any other single agency."

TRUST COMPANY GROWTH

Nearly fourteen and one-half billions of dollars are the total present resources of trust companies in the United States. Institutions reporting number 2,478, as compared with 2,372 a year ago. The actual figures for the year ending June 30 last are $14,441,500,000 resources, as compared with $12,739,600,000 in 1922, representing a gain of $1,701,900,000.

NORMAND FILMS BARRED IN OHIO

Edna Purviance Films Also Barred, Vernon Riegel Announces.

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Motion picture films in which Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance appear have been barred from exhibition in Ohio, Vernon M. Riegel, state director of education, announced today following action of the state motion picture censor board.

Instructs were being sent to all motion picture exchanges in Ohio to withdraw from the film market the pictures, both old and new, in which these two stars appear.

"Action of the censor board is the result of unfavorable reflections cast upon the picture industry by certain episodes with which the banned actresses are alleged to have been connected," Riegel said in making the announcement.

The two actresses are said to have been guests at a New Year's party at the apartment of Courtland Chase, wealthy oil operator of Denver, in Los Angeles, when he was shot by Joseph Greer, chauffeur, for Miss Normand, confessed to the shooting.

Complaints against showing of pictures of these two stars, for the most part, Riegel said, have come from exhibitors. Comparatively few communications have come from the general public.

Runs of pictures in which the two appear will terminate this week end and in some instances immediately, it was said.

A Good One On Grandpa

A hundred years ago this New Years folks burned sperm oil in smoky lamps at a cost of $2.40 per thousand candle hours. Or they could manage fairly well by the light of tallow candles at $5 per thousand candle hours.

A. D. 1924, the average American pays 7c to 15c per thousand candle hours for electric light—the most perfect illumination of all. Quite a bit of difference in price, isn't there?

Other living costs may have risen, but illumination is cheaper and vastly better today than ever before.
